SUNDRY CIVIL BILL PASSED. It Carries $39,125,721, and Was Only

Considered Three Days. WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 .- The sundry civil bill passed to-day in the shortest time, so far as known, on record. It was under consideration but three days. As passed the bill carries $39,125,721. Two propositions, offered respectively by Mr. Sayres and Mr. Coombs, the former's to clothe the Secretary of the Treasury with power to issue United States bonds of such denominations as he should see fit, instead of as now to reissue them of the same denomination, and the latter's to retire and cancel the gold certificates and make them nonreceivable for customs dues after July 1 next, furnished the principal theme of discussion. Mr. Sayres's proposition was defeated-74 to 87, while that of Mr. Coombs was carried without division. Another amendment offered by Mr. Settle to strike out the appropriation of $50,00) to pay for information regarding moonshine distillers, was lost. An appropriation of $40,000 for a lightship to be situated off the straits of Fuca, Washington, was adopted. At the opening of the session Mr. Harrison made the majority report on the memorial of the Central Labor Union of Cleveland, O., which asks for the impeachment of Judge Ricks, denying the request. Mr. Bailey obtained leave to file the mi-

Chairman Sayres, of the appropriation committee, and Chairman Wison, of the ways and means committee, had arranged to divide up to lay, giving the first haif to the completion of the sundry civil bill and the remainder of the day to Mr. Wilson's bill for the repeal of the clause of the tariff act imposing an additional one-tenth of a cent per pound on sugar from bounty-paying countries and the House on Mr. paying countries, and the House, on Mr. Sayres's motion, went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the sundry civil bill.

Mr. Quigg, New York, offered an amendment to the paragraph providing for the pay of bailiffs, criers, etc., of United States courts so as to provide "that all persons employed under Section 715 of the Revised Statutes shall be deemed in actual Révised Statutes shall be deemed in actual attendance when they attend on the order of the court," and prohibiting pay to them during the vacation of the court. Mr. Quigg argued that the adoption of this amendment would expedite the business of the court besides paying the bailiffs and criers, who have received no pay since last March. The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. Broderick offered as a substitute for the paragraph providing for the transfer paragraph providing for the transfer the Fort Leavenworth military prison to the department of justice a paragraph authorizing the confinement in that prison of persons convicted in United States courts by court martials and directing the atsuch persons now serving sentences imposed by United States courts as can be accommodated. Mr. Broderick opposed the transfer of the prison to the department of justice. Mr. Broderick's substitute was rejected.

Mr. Settle moved to strike from the paragraph providing punishment for violations of the internal revenue laws the appro-priation of $50,000 for information and detection of violators. Mr. Settle contended that this appropriation was not necessary for the enforcement of the internal revenue laws, but both harassed and irritated the citizens of North Carolina and other States. Mr. Swanson offered an amendment providing that no portion of the appropriation should be paid to any except duly authorized officers of the government. Both amendments were lost. ents were lost.

for printing United States notes shall be used for printing notes of larger denomihation than those retired or canceled.
Mr. Coombs offered as a substitute an amendment providing for the retirement and cancellation of gold certificates.
Mr. Bland favored the Coombs amendment to retire the coombs amendment to retire and cancel the gold certifi-cates. He thought the amendment should cates. He thought the amendment should be supplemented by another which would give the Secretary of the Treasury authority when there was sufficient amount of silver coined in the treasury to justify it to issue silver certificates against the gold deposited in the treasury. This was done, he said, under Mr. Sherman's administration of the treasury with a resultant cold tion of the treasury with a resultant gold accumulation of $80,000,000.

After some further debate by Messrs. Cox and Warner in favor of the Coombs amendment, the vote was taken on Mr. Sayres's amendment to give the Secretary of the Treasury discretion to issue such denominations of greenbacks as he saw fit. It was lost—74 to 87. The Coombs amendment was then agreed to without division.

Another amendment offered by Mr.

Coombs, making gold certificates nonreceivable for custom dues after July 1, 1895, and after that date noncarriable as the lawful reserve of any national bank, was also agreed to without division.

This completed consideration of the bill in complete. The amendments were then in committee consideration of the bill in committee. The amendments were then agreed to, and the bill was passed. The House then took a recess until 8 o'clock, the night session to be for consideration of pension bills.

The Naval Appropriation Bill. WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.-The report on the naval appropriation bill shows that the bill carries a total of $31,807,023, an increase over the estimates, which were $30,952,096. The estimates for the increase of the navy were $13,259,392, while the appropriation is $13,777,521. Of this increase over estimates $50,000 is for armor and armament and $463,-200 for construction and steam engineering. The allowance for the bureau of ordnance has been increased $1,131,081 over the appropriation for the current year. The propriation for the current year. The special item of $188,000 for equipment for vessels in excess of the appropriation under the bureau of equipment is caused by the commission of the Columbia, Minneapolis Montgomery, Marblehead, Castine, Machias Olympia, Cincinnati and Raleigh, all new vessels. The increase of $542,523 for yards and docks over the allowance for the current year includes $280,000 for the completion of the Puget Sound navy yard, which the Secretary of the Navy on personal inspection considered necessary.

The most important feature of the report is the discussion of the necessity for the new new battle ships and twelve torpedo boats provided for. Mr. Talbott says that the necessities of our geographical position

Cripple Creek Gold Going Abroad. DENVER, Col., Jan. 25.-Cripple Creek DENVER, Col., Jan. 25.—Cripple Creek gold in the form of refinery bars is finding its way direct to London, Paris and Amsterdam. The managers of the Lawrence reduction works, operating in the Cripple Creek district, have received returns from a consignment sold in New York city, and while the premium is less than 1 per cent. yet it amounts to something in these days of small margins and close calculations. The Lawrence works are but following the example of other refineries in the West in supplying the New York demand for gold bars for shipment, which the treasury officials have refused to supply. Of course the local branch mint loses business while this movement lasts.

GONE AFTER TAYLOR

JUSTICE OVERTON, OF CRAWFORDS-VILLE, WILL TURN HIM UP.

Bloody Fight Between Police and Saloon-Keeper Whittington at Columbus-Other State News.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 25 .- The alleged discovery near this city of William Walter Taylor, the $250,000 defaulting State Treasurer of South Dakota, is the chief topic of conversation to-day. John G. Overclaims the honor of locating Taylor. He says the fact that Taylor was 'at a house near this city, sick in bed, was brought to him last Sunday. He investigated the matter and claims to have seen Taylor. When Mr. Overton found out about Taylor he sent word to the United States marshal of South Dakota. The South Dakota authorities answered Mr. Overton that the reward of $2,000 was his if he could turn over Taylor to them. He answered for them to come on, and the officers are expected to-night.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon Mr. Overton and City Marshal Grimes took the Monon train north, but would not say where they were going. They did not purchase tickets. Mr. Overton expected to return before morning with Taylor under arrest. morning with Taylor under arrest.

Joseph Taylor, of this city, is an own cousin of W. W. Taylor, and is intimately acquainted with him. There has been a strange man at his house for a day or so and the word was sent out that he was the missing Taylor. But he proved to be Man Warring, a horse-buyer of Boston. There are several families who are akin to Taylor living near Yountsville, in this county, and there are some living north. Taylor, the ex-treasurer, was raised at Lafayette.

Taylor's Property Attached. HURON, S. D., Jan. 25 .- To-day C. E. Deland, by direction of Attorney-general Crawford, attached the property here in which Taylor, the defaulting State Treasurer, is interested. Deland has attached Taylor's interest in nearly 25,000 acres of farm lands, eight city blocks and 281 city lots. The lands are in fifteen different counties, and all valuable, 13,000 acres being in Spink county, while the other property is in some of the towns in the State.

CUTTING AND SHOOTING. Bloody Affair in Whittington's Saloon at Columbus.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. COLUMBUS, Ind., Jan. 25 .- A bloody fight took place at the saloon of William Whittington to-night. Marshal Schooler and policemen Jackson and Ferguson entered the place and attempted to get into the wine room and were pushed back by Whittington, who tried to force them from the house. The policemen began using their maces, and a general fight ensued. Frank Whittington, son of the proprietor, slashed officer Ferguson across the throat with a big knife, which barely missel the jugular. inflicting a wound six inches long and which is quite serious. Jackson was badly beaten about the head with a revolver in the hands of William Whittington. Wil-liam Whittington himself was also badly hurt. Seven shots were fired by Whit-tington and the policemen, but none took effect. William Whittington and his two sons, Sam and Frank, were finally arrested and are now in jail. Whittington is ex-deputy sheriff of this county.

MURDERER LOOMIS CRAZY. Quick Decision Reached by Agree ment of the Attorneys. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. KOKOMO, Ind., Jan. 25.-The Loomis murder trial commenced in the Howard Circuit Court to-day, the prisoner being defended by Blackledge & Shirley and Woods & Cooper. Aug. 31 Horace Loomis killed his cousin, James Gregory, at the home of Loomis's aged mother, who lived on the old homestead, attended by Gregory, her nephew, Mrs. Loomis being an invalid. At midnight Gregory was at the bedside of the old aunt, when Loomis entered the house and shot him dead, after which he fled, leaving his feeble old mother alone with the corpse all night. The murderer, who lived on an adjoining farm, claimed that Gregory was obtaining control of the woman's property, and that he was giving the old lady a dose of poison when the shot was fired. Loo his has been

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TIPTON, Ind., Jan. 25.-Some time since suit was filed in the Howard Circuit Court by Nancy Trimble against George Trimble and others, and in the reports printed in the papers it was stated that the defendants had obtained money from Nancy Trimble by fraudulent representations and by exercising undue influence over her. While the complaint furnished sufficient ground for these statements, it is now known they had no basis in fact. The suit has been dismissed at the request of Nancy Trimble, without any compromise whatever on the part of the defendants, and in receipting for the money due her under the original contract, Mrs. Trimble says, over her signature: "I now assert, if there is anything stated in the complaint, or in the amended complaint, that imputes fraud to the said George Trimble, or to the said Edward Trimble, or Charles Trimble, the same was inserted in said pleading without my knowledge." ILL-ADVISED STRIKE. Chief Arthur's View of the Brooklyn

Car-Line Trouble. CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 25 .- P. M. Arthur, Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was here to-day, en route to San Francisco to settle differences on the Southern Pacific. Referring to the street railway strike in Brooklyn, Chief Arthur sald:

"I think it is ill-advised. Strikes are bad things, as I said. But I think a strike par-ticularly ill-advised, which throws so many men out of work when there are so many idle men in the country. How can they hope to succeed when there are a dozen men to take the place of every man who goes out? This is a particularly bad time to strike. I believe that the railroad companies were wrong when they refused to arbitrate with their men. I recognize the perfect right of capital to an adequate re-turn upon its investment. And these railroad corporations have a right to a reasonable compensation for their enterprise and outlay. But, on the other hand, the employe has a right to reasonable compensa-tion. I do not believe that capital has a right to make such an outlay that it can-not meet its obligations, except by taking it from a fair living wage. Judge Gaynor, as I understand it, has required the Brooklyn railroads to run their roads or show good and sufficient reason why they can not. I think it wrong if the court should revoke their charters, if the railroads can show that they have been detained by force-ful and unlawful means. But I do blame the corporations for refusing to treat in the matter. That should have been done in the first place."

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 25.-Kirk-

Governor Matthews, Secretary of State

Owen, State Librarian, Miss Ahern, and thirty-nine members of the Legislature.

Fourteen of the members were from the Senate and twenty-five from the House of prominent citizens swelled the trainload to Governor Matthews spoke for twenty minutes. He was in favor of the higher schools of learning, and thought the money given to the State institutions of

Half of his talk was devoted to the location of the university. He said that he was not one of the old school, who believed that the location for universities was in the large commercial centers. Himself a graduate of a university in a small place, he looked back with pleasure at the decided advantages it had given him of a college atmosphere, of enthusiasm, the needed seclusion and the relief from temptations, and he felt that these had done more for than all the advantages of a commercial center. He told the faculty and students that the university would never be moved from Bloomington to any other town in Indiana. He regretted very much the agitation that had been brought up regarding removal, because, he said, it could do nothfar as the State would be less inclined to give it the needful funds for it to realize its ambitions. He said if ever Indiana University were moved it would be to the grave. In conclusion he highly recommended the great work of the

FURTHER DETAILS OF THE EARTH-QUAKES AT KUCHAN, PERSIA.

Six Hundred People Entombed in a SOLONS AT COLLEGE Mosque and as Many More Perished in the Baths-The Oriental War.

LONDON, Jan. 26 .- A dispatch to the Times, from Teheran, gives further details of the destructive earthquake at Kuchan. The first shock occurred at noon, Thursday, Jan. 17. This was followed by another and in three minutes the town was in ruins. The loss of life was enormous. Most of the victims were crushed to death by falling buildings, but many were burned to death, the ruins in which they were entangled having caught fire. Six hundred were entombed in a mosque, while engaged in prayer. Six hundred other persons perished in the various baths. The survivors could obtain neither food nor water for three days, telegraph lines having destroyed. Many who escaped death by the earthquake perished from hunger and exposure. The weather was very cold. Not a single building remains standing in the town. Since the 17th the shocks have been repeated daily. One shock, which occurred at 6 o'clock on the evening of Jan. 22, was equal in severity to the first one, which caused the destruction of the city. This shock of Jan. 22 was followed by three others at intervals from one to four hours apart. It is pitiful witness the terror-stricken people huddled in groups and exposed to the inclemency of the weather which continues intense cold. No shelter of any kind is available needed, is at present procurable, but Russian surgeons are sian surgeous are proceeding with all speed

THE ORIENTAL WAR. Japs Said to Have Been Repulsed-

China's Peace Envoys. LONDON, Jan. 25.-A dispatch to th Times from Tien-Tsin says the the Chin met the advance guards of the Japan army near Chang bay, on Thursday, and repulsed them. Some of the Japanese were killed. It is believed that the Japanese will bring a larger force before making an attack on Wei-Hai-Wei.

A dispatch from Hiogo, to the Times, says Field Marshal Count Oyama has proceeded to the Shan Tung promontory, from Talien Wan, to conduct the operations of the Japanese forces.

A Peking dispatch to the Times states that Wang Wen Strao, ex-viceroy of Yunnan, has been appointed to assist Li Hung Chang in the superintendence of trade, thus far curtailing the latter's functions.

An official dispatch received at Yokohama says that General Nodozu attacked Hal Cheng, on Jan. 17, and adds: "There were eight thousand Chinese troops under Gen Chang on our right wing, and six thousand under General Twi on our left wing. We found twenty-one Chinese dead after the battle, including officers. The natives say that the Chinese lost over one hundred men." Another official dispatch received from the headquarters of the Japanese army, announces that the Japanese cap-tured Yuen Chang Shen on the night of Jan. 20. The dispatch also announces further fighting around Hai Cheng. On the morning of Jan. 22 a force of ten thousand Chinese again attacked the Japanese positions, but were repulsed by 2 o'clock in the afternoon, with heavy loss although they only left one hundred dead on the field. The casualties on the Japanese field were twenty-eight men wounded.
Official notice has been received at Yoko-Official notice has been received at Yoko-hama that the Chinese peace envoys are coming on the steamship Empress of China. They will proceed to Hiroshima by train from Kobe. The Empress of China left Hong Kong on Jan. 23, and will touch at Shanghai where, it is presumed, she will embark the Chinese envoys and proceed to Kobe

After a solo by Miss Elsie Mason, Dr. Angell, president of Ann Arbor, made a short address. The speech throughout was a plea to make the highest advantages possible for the poorer classes, as, Dr. Angell stated, half the boys in Western colleges, are compelled to bear their own A dispatch from Shanghai says: It is stated here on good authority that the Chinese peace envoys will not be received unless they have full powers to propose final terms of peace. Several Japanese war ships have gone south in order to intercept steamers which are expected to arrive shortly off the coast of China with arms, ammunition and other articles classed as nition and other articles classed as

Daughter of France's President Will Wed Paul Deschanel. PARIS, Jan. 25 .- The betrothal of Mile. Lucie Faure, daughter of the President of the Republic, to M. Paul Beschanel, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, is announced. M. Paul Deschanel is the son of M. Emile Deschanel, the eminent professor. He is a Republican, the author of a number of political and literary works and is now attached to the staff of the Journal des Debats. In 1891 he visited the United States in an official capacity at the instance of the French government, in order to inquire into various commercial and economic matters. He has distinguished himself as an orator and has occupied several important positions, such as secretary to the Minister of the Interior, secretary of M. Jules Simon, when the latter was president of the Council of Ministers in 1876, subprefect of Dreux, secretary of the Department of Reine-et-Marne and subprefect of Brest and Meaux In 1888 subprefect of Brest and Meaux. In 1888, in the Chamber of Deputies, he made a remarkable speech on the interest of France in the East, and as a result the Sultan of Turkey decorated him with two Turkish orders. Miss Burch's Marriage. CHICAGO, Jan. 25 .- Miss Burch left Chicago for Paris at a comparatively early age and she is now about fifty years old. Fernnando Jores, a twell known Chicagoan, said to-day: "Madame Ribot has been married to a Frenchman for so long a time that to a Frenchman for so long a time that she has almost forgotten her native language. She is a sensible, level headed woman, not beautiful, but just the kind of a woman to suit her diplomatic husband. She went to Paris to visit friends and there she met and married M. Ribot. She brought him wealth, though her father was by no means a millionaire. In 1860 her father began divorce proceedings against his wife He accused her of all sorts of irregularities and as both parties were well known there was great interest in the suit. The case was lost. He settled a big sum on his wife, however, took little Minnie and went to

M. Ribot to Form a Cabinet. Paris, Jan. 25.-President Faure has summoned M. Ribot to form a Cabinet, and the latter has accepted the task. He is now consulting with his friends. The wife of M. Ribot was formerly Miss Minnie Burch, of Chicago. Since the fall of M. Ribot's Ministry under the late President Carnot he has occupied a rather obscure place in politics. A correspondent, dearth of men eligible as Ministers, says the secret is that it is a question between the Panamaists and boodlers and the anti-Panamaists. The latter are not keen to take office, but the Panamaists are strain ing every nerve to exclude them. To t latter it is a matter of life and death.

"DICK" CROKER'S HORSES All Arrive Safe and Sound in Engiand Except one.

GRAVESEND, England, Jan. 25 .- The steamer Mississippi, from New York, has arrived here with the horses belonging to Richard Croker and Michael F. Dwyer, which are to take part in various English races. Natty Bumpo, a brown colt, two years old, by Tremont, out of Tassel, died of pneumonia when the steamer was three days out. All the other horses are doing well. A party of racing men went from sippi. Not one of Mr. Croker's horses were injured.

Mr. Lacey, of the stud at Newmarket, where Mr. Croker's mares are consigned, said: "The death of Natty Bumpo was not due to any fault of the steamship company, and I am glad to see that Dobbins is in fine condition, and Montauk is also in splendid form. As for Harry Reed, he looks very fat." Mr. Lacey thought that the horses would do good work here. They will go in a special train to Newmarket, where they will be placed in Allcroft's stable.

Hardy Campbell, the American trainer, remarked: "Dobbins's leg, which has been blistered, is now all right, and I have no fear about him. Not one of the horses ever missed a meal throughout the voyage. I shall accompany them to Newmarket with Mr. Lacey, and I am confident from their condition that they will make a good showing." Fred Gallagher, the sporting writer, said: "There is a movement on foot to draw the attention of the Board of Agriculture, by a question in the House of Commons, to the lax manner in which horses are shipped from American ports for Europe, with a view to having the arrangements prescribed for cattle extended to horses. ome of the horses were in such condition that they fell on the wharf before em-barking. The company was powerless in the matter." The foregoing remarks of Mr. Gallagher do not apply to Mr. Croker's

Row in the Belgian Deputies. BRUSSELS, Jan. 25 .- The recent violent quarrels between the Catholics and the Socialists in the Chamber of Deputies culminated to-day in a violent scene created by the socialist deputy Anseele and Feman, a Catholic deputy. During the discussion of the budget of the Ministry of Justice Anseele raised the question of the laws for the proraised the question of the laws for the protection of the working classes, which laws, he declared, were disregarded by the employers. Feman interrupted him, and was called to order for so doing, but in spite of this fact Feman soon repeated his interruptions and made insulting remarks, declaring that he regarded Anseele as a violent mad man. He was again called to order, and then Feman asked leave to address the man. He was again caned to order, and then Feman asked leave to address the house. The president of the chamber was opposed to this proceeding, but all the deputies of the right supported the request, whereupon the president of the chamber, le Lantseer, resigned, and the sitting was suspended amid a scene of intense excite-ment, during which heated words and threats were exchanged between the Social-

Armenians Thank the Sultan. CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 25 .- The Turkish newspapers print a letter addressed to the Sultan by the Armenian clergy and notablities of Adrianople, thanking him for the benefits enjoyed by his Armenian subjects. The letter also reprobates the con-duct of certain insensate Armenians who are endeavoring to disturb order by promot-ing intrigues in the province of Asia Minor. The letter also reprobates the con-

Cable Notes. The United States cruiser Atlanta has arrived at Colon from Bluefields. Serious discontent prevails in the isthmus at the continued inactivity in the canal work. Frederick Chopin is the subject at the Amateur Club this afternoon. The topics are "Life of Chopin," "Style of His Compositions," "His Two Concertos and His Etudes," "His Works; Their Merit and Originality," "His Place in the History of Music." Those who are to treat of these subjects are Miss Deborah Moore, Miss May Herron, Miss Edna Swain, Mrs. J. R. Lilley and Mrs. A. C. Burrell. Mr. Max Leckner will have charge of the musical Leckner will have charge of the musical programme. Mrs. William B. Wheelock gave a beautiful Dresden luncheon, yesterday, to sixteen at her home on North Meridian street. All the appointments were in Dresden china or Dresden colors. In the center of the table was a Dresden candelabra. At either end of the table were low baskets of wallen white and pink roses and at each yellow, white and pink roses, and at each plate were yellow, white or pink roses for corsage bouquets. Miss McElwaine, of Vincennes, who is Mrs. J. K. Sharpe's guest, was the only one present from out of town. Mrs. G. A. Sickford gave a party last evening for thirty-five of the young friends of her son, Master Harry Sickford. The evening was spent in games and dancing, and the geusts were all in fancy dress. Some very pretty costumes were worn by the young people. The house was tastefully decorated with palms and flowers for the occasion, and the dining room was in pink carnations. A prize was given the one hav-ing the best costume. Mrs. Sickford was assisted by Miss Annie Richards and Miss May Wilson.

Mrs. Schmidlap was the hostess for a tea yesterday afternoon, which she gave to about thirty of her old friends. The tea was at 3 o'clock, at her home on Bellefontaine street. In the room water the guests laid aside their wraps they found cards bearing the name of an author. When tea was announced they found their seats at table by the name of the card which they carried. The tables were prettily decorated with Bridesmaid roses. Each table was named for a different author. Mrs. Schmidlap was assisted in entertaining her guests by her daughters, Mrs. W. H. Hobbs and Mrs. J. H. Hellekson.

MRS. BONTE-RAYMOND'S RECEPTION Mrs. Perley-Bonte Raymond entertained a large number of friends vesterday afternoon at her home in Wooodruff Place with a reception. The invitations were issued for tea at different hours, so that at no time were the rooms crowded. Mrs. Raymond received in a gown of yellow silk, which corresponded with the floral adornment of the parlor, this color being used exclusively. The lights in the rooms were covered with yellow shades. In the second room, where the tea was poured, scarlet predominated. The mantel was hidden by ferns and scarlet carnations and tulips. The fret work above the tea table was festooned with smilax and the table had crystal candelabra and candelsticks, with scariet candles. A large basket of ferns and carnations occupied the center of the table. In the dining room pink was the color, and the graceful blooms of the begonia and hyacint were used in baskets at diagonal corner of the table. In the center of the table was a tall epergne filled with pink roses. Jeweled lanters and lamps, with shades to harmonize with the colors in the different rooms, furnished the mellow light. A harpist furnished music all the afternoon. Mrs. Raymond was assisted in the parlor by Mrs. G. F. Adams, Mrs. Arthur B. Grover, Mrs. Frank Rogers, Mrs. Alfred F. Potts and Mrs. William H. Brown. In the tea rooms Mrs. William and Wallace Lowrey, in a scarlet and silver gown, Mrs. Charles Robinson, Mrs. Russell Seeds, Mrs. Charles Robinson, Mrs. Russell Seeds, Mrs. George O. Levey, Miss Bessie Hord, Miss Eliza Adams and Miss May Wheeler extended the hospitalities. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond entertained the assisting ladies and an equal number of men handsomely at dinner after the reception and a social evening was spent. The reception was one of the very pretty ones of the season.

MISS POWELL'S RECITAL.

MISS POWELL'S RECITAL. Miss Maud Powell who is one of the finest women violinists now before the public, gave the third of the series of artists' recitals in the College of Music course last evening at Plymouth Church. Miss Powell is not unknown in this city, she having played in the Nordica concert here some two years ago, at the time of the Flower Mission fair. Miss Powell plays with great brilliancy and style. She is a graceful woman, and endues her renditions with a tenderness and yet force which marks her playing as rare. In the programme which she presented there was abundant opportunity for her to show her admirable technique as well as her versatility. Miss Clara Wright, a pupil of Mr. Oliver Willard Pierce of the College of Music, accompanied Miss Powell on the piano in all but one number, the latter being given without accompaniment. Miss Ida Sweenle, who is always pleasing in her songs, assisted Miss Powell, Miss Sweenle being accompanied by Mr. Arens. The programme included "Suite Op. 34 (Ries), moderato, bourree, adagio, gondolieria and moto perpetus;" "Preludes, Loure and Gavotte and Rondo," by Bach, the latter without accompaniment; brilliancy and style. She is a graceful "Preludes, Loure and Gavotte and Rondo," by Bach, the latter without accompaniment; "Waltz," Chopin; "Caprice," Chaminade; "Twilight," Massenet-Powell, and "Romanze et Gavotte, from Mignon," Sarasate, and "Polonaise," Misch, played by Miss Powell, and "Scena and Aria, from Der Frieschutz," Von Weber, and "Love Song," by Harris, sung by Miss Sweenic.

Bishop Hale's Lecture.

Rev. Dr. Hale, Bishop of Cairo, will deliver the second of the series of lectures by bishops Sunday evening, at St. Paul's, at 7:45, on the "Eastern Church." Dr. Hale is considered an authority upon that subject, and his lecture will be full of information.

Remember, or Forget. When I am dead, my uearest, Sing no sad songs for me; Plant no roses at my head Better green grass above me With showers and dewdrops wet; And if thou wilt, forget.

I shall not see the shadows, I shall not feel the rain; I shall not hear the nightingale sing on, as if in pain; And dreaming through the twilight That doth not rise nor set, Haply I may remember, And haply may forget.

-Christina Rossetti. Mr. Broomhall Explains. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: Your editorial on the Brooklyn strike, just preceding your comment on my address in Plymouth Church, prompts me to write you, for it is evident that whatever you say is said honestly. I do not wish to argue, and therefore have nothing to say in reply to your assertion that wages have increased. You appeal to statistics, which shows that you think that figures won't lie, while I think that there are no liars like figures. We need not figure on the wages question; the facts render it unnecessary-for instance some of the facts you cite in your editorial on the strike. I only wish to correct a misapprehension on your part, viz.: That I do apprenension on your part, viz.: That I do not believe in private possession of land. I did say that space should be free as air, but qualified and explained that statement by saying that I used it only in the sense that all should share equally in the value of space; that we could not share equally in the possession—i. e., the area of the earth, but that we could share equally in its value by taking in taxes, for public purposes, all by taking in taxes, for public purposes, all the value of land caused by increase of population and general improvement. We need not, as you suggest, hie ourselves to Africa to enjoy space in equality, but can dwell in beautiful cites like Indianapolis, and read good newspapers, like the Journal, for where the public receive all the income i. e., all the value arising from private possession of land, space, in effect, will be free as light and air. Each will then have the exclusive right to his own time and an equal right in space. Private possession of land right in space. Private possession of land is just and necessary to protect and guartee each man peaceable enjoyment of his labor, capital and improvements. But private property in the value of land is the last citadel of exploitation, and, like all other institutions which violate the law of equal freedom, must yield to the resistless march of education, to which the Journal is daily contributing its valuable aid. Will you not kindly share with me your exclusive right to space in the Journal?

Stamps for the Kaneville Cripple. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: The crop of suckers in Seymour would seem to be quite as prolific as any other towns of the State in connection with the canceled stamp scheme of Miss Edna R. Brown, of Kaneville, Ill. Seymour has furnished several contributors to the scheme, and one of them, a little more suspicious than the others, addressed a letter to the postmaster asking regarding the authenticity of the statements made in the beg-ging letters sent out. Following is a ver-batim copy of the reply received this morn-

"In reply to yours of the 17th, will say there is no cripple by the name of Miss Brown. Mrs. Brown Garman is as well as you. Neither has any institute offered to treat any cripple for any number of canceled stamps. It is a fraud and curse to our town. Yesterday's mail was 22,000 letters for Brown. This is a cost of $400 per day to the public. It is time people think twice before they further any such scheme." This answer was sent by C. C. Dadds, who explains that the postmaster at Kane-ville is so occupied that he has no time to
